Talent of Success. The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well, without a thought of fame. If it comes at all, it will come because it is deserved, not because it is sought after. It is very indiscreet and troublesome ambition which cares so much about fame, about what the world says of us, as to be always looking in the eyes of others for approval, in the way we do or say, to be always shouting to hear the echoes of our own voices.

The Store that Saves You Money

Hurt in a Runaway.

Joseph Kolegeskie of the town of Sigel was considerably hurt and bruised up in a runaway in this city Tuesday morning, he being thrown from his rig and knocked insensible for a time.

Mr. Kolegeskie was bringing in some cream to the Chambers creamery, and when near the back end of the Wood block his horses took fright at some workmen nearby, and started to run. One of the wagon wheels struck an obstruction and Mr. Kolegeskie was thrown from the wagon and struck on his head.

He was rendered unconscious by the fall and was picked up and taken to Dr. Hoenen's office, where it was found that he had suffered quite a scalp wound, requiring several stitches to close it. Since regaining consciousness Mr. Kolegeskie has been getting along all right and it is not expected that he will suffer any further inconvenience.

Ladies at the Bank.

In this weeks advertisement the First National Bank tells some of the reasons why every woman should have a bank account. The idea of a woman having her own bank account is comparatively new. It is now recognized, however, by the husbands as well as the wives, that the household affairs can be better and more economically conducted when the wife has an account at the bank and pays most of the expense bills by check. The young ladies who are earning a salary or receive an allowance, have even more use for the bank than their married sisters, hence these remarks apply to all.

The First National is making a special feature of ladies accounts, and has purchased duty free leather check books for their exclusive use.

Death of Wm. Palmer.

Deceased was born in Indiana on the 18th of July, 1856, and was therefore 54 years of age. He came to Wisconsin with his parents when he was two years old, and the family moved to Grand Rapids in 1865, where Mr. Palmer has since resided.

He leaves two sons to mourn his loss, they being Earl and Floyd Palmer, both of Fond du Lac. There are also two brothers and a sister, they being Melville Palmer of this city, A. N. Palmer of Kansas City and Miss Fannie Palmer of Bertoud, Colorado.

Change of Pastors.

The Methodist church of this city has just undergone a change of pastors. Rev. Newing goes to St. Paul's church, Green Bay, and Rev. F. A. Pease comes to Grand Rapids, from First M. E. church of Oshkosh. Rev. Pease comes with an enviable record from such churches as Wausau, Marinette and Oshkosh. The Methodist church is to be congratulated. We welcome Rev. Pease to our city as pastor and fellow citizen.

Baseball Season Closed.

The last game of the season was played on Wednesday afternoon last between the Grand Rapids team and the Wausau league team. The game was a victory for the Wausau boys, the score being 9 to 3.

Out of the thirty games played during the past season the locals have lost only six, making a very successful season. The financial part of the proposition has been better than usual also.

Adjudged Insane.

Thos. Foley was adjudged insane on Saturday after a hearing and examination before County Judge Conway, and he was taken to Madison the same day and placed in the asylum. It is thought that with proper treatment Mr. Foley will be able to recover his health.

Miss Della Jones arrived home on Tuesday night from Joliet, Ill., where she has been the past month, having been called there on a special case as nurse.

PEARS!

COUNCIL CONSIDERS LIBRARY MATTERS

The city council met in adjourned session on Tuesday evening to consider library matters, and quite a lengthy session was held.

Owing to the absence of Mayor Wheelan the council was called to order by President Ellis, who presided at the meeting. Miss Lattie Stearns was present and addressed the council on the advantages to be obtained by having a new and up to date library building. Short addresses were also given by several of our prominent citizens, who spoke in favor of accepting the gift of Andrew Carnegie for a new library building. Their talks were brief and to the point, and were listened to with interest by those present.

A resolution was introduced which provided for the acceptance of the Carnegie gift, and the purchase of a site, and other necessary provisions connected with the matter, but before the resolution could be voted upon, Alderman Jackson arose and made a motion to the effect that the new library be located on the east side of the river.

After considerable discussion as to whether Mr. Jackson's motion was out of order or not, a vote was taken on the matter and the motion was lost by a vote of 3 to 5, only fourteen aldermen being present.

After this the original motion was voted on and it was adopted. Now, however, it will be necessary to hold another vote on the matter, as it was only carried by a vote of 8 to 4, which is not a majority of the council.

Several sites have been under consideration by the library board, one being the Lefebvre property, which faces the Consolidated park and is a nice place centrally located, and another is the MacKinnon property on 1st Avenue just south of the Riverside House. This latter is also nicely located, but not quite so handy to the bridge as the other property.

Married Fifty Years.

Stevens Point Journal.—Married—At Anashimongee, Canada, Sept. 18, 1860, Mr. Henry Belanger and Miss Victoria Dugas dit LaBroche.

And so it happened that the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, their golden wedding, fell on Sept. 18, 1910, and the same was celebrated at their home, 600 Division street, on Sunday.

Immediately after their marriage in Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Belanger came to Wisconsin and settled at Grand Rapids, where for twenty years Mr. Belanger was engaged in the mercantile business. They then moved to Oshkosh and after living at various places, came here from Wausau eleven years ago. For many years Mr. Belanger was engaged in the insurance business, from which he had to retire about two years ago on account of failing eye sight.

Mr. and Mrs. Belanger were the parents of twelve children, of whom four died in infancy. Those now living are Mrs. J. C. Duflois, Antigo; Mrs. O. H. Tielchert, Marinette; O. C. and George Belanger, Wausau; Miss Victoria, at home; Mrs. O. P. Meyer, Rosbolk; Mrs. Harold Sampson, Carboe, Kentucky, and Mrs. M. H. Marken, Dawson, Minn. They also have thirteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

On account of Mr. Belanger's condition the aged couple did not go to the church, in connection with the celebration of their fiftieth anniversary, as they would like to have done. He has been totally blind for the last two years. His general health is also quite poor; in fact he was not able to sit at the table during the fiftieth wedding dinner, his seat with the bride being occupied by his brother, Mr. Frank Belanger of Grand Rapids, who is his senior in years, but who is still in good health and active. Nevertheless Mr. Belanger greatly enjoyed the occasion and it was at his special request that it was all arranged.

A three course dinner was served at 2 o'clock. The general house and table decorations were golden glow, and the bride's cake and the wedding cake were in keeping with the rest. And so was the purse of yellow gold that was presented to the aged bride and groom.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Tielchert, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer and children, Mrs. M. H. Marken, Miss Victoria, Mr. Frank Belanger of Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Christman of this city. Dr. Marken of Dawson, Minn., was here a few days ago but had to return home. A pleasant feature of the occasion was the receipt of a congratulatory telegram from Mrs. Sampson. Probably the best known member of the Belanger family in this city is Miss Victoria, whose pleasant voice the most of us have heard over the telephone many a time. She has been in the local telephone exchange nearly ten years, and now occupies the position of assistant chief operator.

Bruderli-Armon.

Miss Edith Bruderli and Calvin Armon of Minneapolis were married at Minneapolis on Thursday, and will make their home in this city.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Bruderli and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armon of Port Edwards, being employed as engineer at Minneapolis.

The Tribune unites with their friends in extending congratulations.

While hunting near Ladyemith recently W. E. Ule was wounded by receiving part of a charge of fine shot in his side. The gun with which Mr. Ule was shot was in the hands of a companion and the cartridge had failed to explode, but was discharged when the gun was opened. Several of the shot struck Mr. Ule in the right side and three in the face.

Wreck on the Green Bay.

The Green Bay & Western passenger train, which leaves Stevens Point at 2:30 in the afternoon, was partially wrecked at Plover, a little before 3 o'clock on Saturday. The train was derailed, a number of the cars overturned, and a number of the passengers injured.

The switch was thrown, thus causing the forward trucks to stay on the siding while the rear trucks slid on the main line, leading directly to the station. Before the engineer could stop, the coach was turned onto its side between the switch track and the main line. Owing to the lack of a turntable at Plover the train must go around what is termed as a "Y" in railroad parlance; actually it is a triangle, and thus the engine is ahead of the coaches.

Several passengers in the coach were bruised and shaken up quite badly, although nobody was killed.

Old Election Ticket.

Marshfield News.—C. R. Wharfield, who has been a resident of this city since its beginning, brought to the polls on primary day some of the ballots voted in the eighties, which he has kept as relics of by gone days. One is a national with a county ticket attached and he either a town ticket, Marshfield not yet having been incorporated as a city. The national ticket contained the names of electors for president and vice president. That C. R. Pound was in fact a congressman, T. B. Scott for state senator and Myron J. McLeod for assemblyman. On the county ticket is found the name of Phil Ward for sheriff, I. L. Mosher for treasurer, P. J. Wood for clerk, R. P. Bronson for clerk of court, Geo. L. Williams for district attorney, P. N. Christensen for register, Wm. Scott for surveyor and O. Osterman for coronor.

Postal Savings Cards Soon.

Announcement made Monday that the secretary of the treasury, upon the request of the postoffice department, has authorized the printing of 1,500,000 postal savings cards.

The object of this card is to encourage thrift among children. As purchased in the original form, they bear a stamp and the card will have a face value of 10 cents. There will be room for nine other stamps on it, and when 81 worth of stamps have been attached the card will be accepted as a deposit at a postal savings bank.

The cards will be landed in packages of 100 and packed and sealed for shipment, as called for by the banks.

Dr. Voyer Married.

Dr. E. O. Voyer of Minneapolis and Miss Mabel Fitzgerald of St. Paul were married at St. Paul recently at St. Luke's Catholic church, Rev. T. E. Cullen performing the ceremony.

Dr. Voyer is a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Voyer of Junction City and is comparatively well known to a number of our citizens.

Miss Beck wishes to announce her Fall Millinery opening Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 21st and 22nd. A cordial invitation is extended to all ladies of Grand Rapids and vicinity.

Ella Beck.—21.

Auction Sale.

On Saturday, September 24th I will sell at auction my household goods and furniture. Everything will be disposed of as we are going to leave the city. Peter Latna, 913 Tenth Ave. N. 1 & p.

Nelson-Menier.

George Menier of this city and Miss Mary Nelson of the town of Sigel were married at the Catholic parish house on Tuesday forenoon by Rev. Reding. They will make this city their home.

Concert Season Soon Ends.

If the weather permits, the Grand Rapids band will give about two more concerts this summer, when the season will be over.

During the past season Prof. Bliss has received considerable praise from people about the city because he did not hold the band concerts on regular nights, but it is no more than right to give a few words of explanation, so that the public may know that Mr. Bliss was not to blame in the matter.

To begin with Mr. Bliss set the band concert for every Tuesday evening, but he was not able to play a concert without musicians, so at times when a large number of the members of the band had other engagements on Tuesday night, he had to select some other evening for the concert. A director of an amateur band is entirely at the mercy of the players in the band. When they want to play, he is able to give a concert and when they do not want to turn out, it is impossible for him to do anything.

The members receive no pay for their playing, and the only hold the director has on them is their love for music. When turning out for the band becomes irksome, or otherwise too much with a man's business or his other pleasures, the chances are that it will cease to be a pleasure and he will refuse to show up.

People who are inclined to kick about the change of night of the band concert should remember these facts and bear in mind that the members of the band are not inclined to be in any way, and they should be glad to get a concert when it is possible to have one.

The conditions have been especially bad the past season, owing to the fact that from eight to ten musicians have been employed at the pavilion two or three, making it impossible to hold a band concert on any of those nights.

This week it will be necessary to hold the concert on Thursday evening owing to the fact that the council met on Tuesday night, so that a concert could be played that evening on the west side, while a new cement walk is being laid in front of the court house, making it impossible to play there.

This changing about from one night to another is as objectionable to the members of the band as anybody else, but as it cannot be helped they are obliged to put up with it if they play at all.

Republican Committee organizes.

The republican county committee met at the court house on Tuesday afternoon and organized, there being twenty-two members present.

P. O. Whither of Nelson was elected chairman of the County committee and John White of Marshfield secretary. As Mr. White could not act, R. E. Andrews was elected to the position. Simon Warland of the town of Sigel was elected treasurer.

PITTSVILLE

(From the Record.)

Many residents had the distinction of seeing cyclonic formation Sunday at about 5:30 in the afternoon. It was about the time the black cloud traveling eastward from the north to south that a formation of the nature of the cyclone made itself apparent about two degrees north of due west, and was watched by a good many of the people of the city with a creepy feeling of unrest as to the outcome. The house of Geo. W. Reynolds, northeast of here on Curry's bluff, lies in ruins as a result of this incident. The cyclonic formation during the storm. The house was struck at about 5:30 in the afternoon and burned to the ground. Mr. Reynolds, who was sitting on the porch of the house, was shocked into insensibility. He recovered consciousness, however, before the arrival of the doctor, but will be without the use of his right side for a time.

The heavy frost of Friday night played havoc with the apple industry in this vicinity. The vines are killed and Saturday and the first day or two of this week witnessed the end of the season of cucumbers at the station here.

Many of the telephone poles on the line of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. between here and Grand Rapids and near the Hamlock River were damaged by being struck by lightning in the storm Sunday. Workmen from this city made the repairs Monday.

Joe Natwick and family of Baltimore, Md., visited in the city the greater part of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Natwick are both well known here having lived here in the earlier days.

Mrs. C. A. Ludowig was called to Morrill's farm part of last week to attend the funeral of a relative. Mr. Ludowig went there over Sunday.

NEKOOSA

(From the Times.)

The marriage of Mrs. M. J. Chamberlain of Port Edwards and Mr. W. L. Preston of Strongsville, Ohio, occurred at the Congregational parsonage here Monday afternoon at six o'clock. Rev. S. S. Forrest officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Topping of Grand Rapids, Arthur Chamberlain, the bride's son, of Port Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. G. Burns of Strongsville were present.

S. Olund of Monmouth and Garvin Young and son, Dudley, of Neenah were here the latter part of last week hunting chickens in this vicinity. Mr. Young was the first successful hunter of the Nekoosa paper mill and is well known here. They were out chicken hunting with A. J. Lapham on Saturday and Sunday and succeeded in getting a good lot of birds.

A E Gardy of Green Lake and Mr. and Mrs. James Baird of Pittsburg, Pa., were here from Friday until Monday. Messrs. Gardy and Baird obtained a chicken hunt near Finley in company with J. S. Lawrence last Sunday, coming home with twelve prairie chickens.

Ernest Stevens was at Grand Rapids last Sunday to spend a few hours with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stevens of Plainfield, who went up there on an excursion train. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, colic, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all dealers.

Mrs. Jacob Whitmer, Lincoln, Ill., found her way back to perfect health. She writes: "I suffered with kidney trouble and backache and my appetite was very poor at times. A few weeks ago I got Foley's Kidney Pills and gave them a fair trial. They gave me great relief, so continued till now I am in perfect health." Sold by Johnson & Hill Co. and J. R. Daly.

THE WEARY WAY.

—With a back that aches all day, With rest disturbed at night, Annoying urinary disorders, This is a weary way, indeed.

Doan's Kidney Pills drive weariness away.

Are endorsed by Grand Rapids citizens.

J. E. Farley, 908 Baker St., Grand Rapids, Wis., says: "I can conscientiously say that I have no trouble from my kidneys since using Doan's Kidney Pills. I suffered severely from a lame back and sharp pains across my loins. I could hardly stoop or bend and the trouble was so severe at night that I could get but little rest. My kidneys were disordered and the secretions became highly colored and contained a sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally brought to my attention and I procured a box. Through their use my kidneys became normal and I felt better in every way. I know Doan's Kidney Pills are a reliable remedy for kidney troubles and I, therefore am glad to give them my endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

The committee on teachers and texts reported that Miss Nina M. DeVoe had been engaged to teach in the grades in place of Miss Elizabeth Briggs, resigned.

The committee on buildings and grounds then gave a brief report on work done during the past three months.

It was moved and carried that the west windows in the Emerson Building be provided with Venetian curtains.

Because of the overcrowded conditions in the First and Second year classes in the high school, it was recommended by the superintendent that an additional teacher be employed in the high school. Motion made and carried that such a teacher be engaged.

It was moved and carried that two extra typewriters be purchased by the committee on buildings and grounds for the Commercial Department.

On motion the rules for medical inspection of the schools was agreed upon by the physicians of the city were adopted. Rules follow.

The following plan of procedure was agreed upon by the physicians of the city that the Health Officer issue all permits to children to return to school after exclusion from school in consequence of contagious diseases. That the testing of eyes and ears is to be done under the direction of Dr. W. M. Ruckel.

That the inspectors refer occluded pupils to their family physicians and that the pupils be dismissed with suggestions to go to their family physician.

That inspectors communicate cases of contagious diseases immediately to health officer.

That inspectors call the attention of teachers and through the teachers, the attention of the parents, to physical defect in pupils.

At the first visit to the school at the beginning of each semester the inspector will make a rapid inspection of all the pupils.

The inspector will visit the school, stand with his back to a window and have all the pupils of each room file past him for inspection. The pupils in passing expose to view the palms of the hands and the wrists, with the fingers of one hand palm down the eyes, exposing the conjunctiva, open the mouth and put out the tongue and in the case of girls, lift up the back hair.

This hurried inspection should be made without touching the pupils. Skin diseases, eye diseases, and evidence of scarlet fever and measles, especially in the convalescent stage, can in this manner be detected.

In making throat examinations the wooden tongue blades supplied by the department must be used only once and then burned. Aseptic methods must be employed in all examinations.

CASES TO BE EXCLUDED.

Children showing signs or symptoms of small pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, chicken pox, whooping cough, mumps, or acute tonsillitis. Cases of poliomyelitis, with live polio.

Cases which have been flagrantly exposed to the above diseases, (except acute tonsillitis) until the incubation period has been passed.

Children affected with contagious eye and skin diseases and dormant poliomyelitis, who have persistently refused to undergo treatment.

CASES TO BE REFERRED TO THEIR OWN PHYSICIAN.

Acute conjunctivitis; pediculosis; skin diseases including ringworm, of the scalp, face or body, scabies, favus, lupus, molluscum, contagionum and discharging ears.

These children are re-examined on the next visit and allowed to attend school as long as treatment is continued. Children affected with Trachoma are referred to their own physician and are allowed to attend school as long as evidence of treatment are shown.

If a child is excluded brief but sufficient reason therefore must be written on the exclusion circular and the card attached. The former is sent home addressed in a sealed envelope, and the latter filed at the school.

Inspectors are not to make any suggestions as to the treatment or management of pupils who are sick. In all cases the medical inspector shall scrupulously respect the rights of the family physician.

Children recovering from measles, chicken pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, and small pox must not re-enter school without a permit from the Health Department.

Children returning after mumps and whooping cough may be readmitted at the discretion of the Health Officer. Those exposed to diphtheria should be excluded one week from last exposure.

Measles, cases must be excluded at least 8 weeks and longer if there are present bronchitis, inflammation of the throat, nose or abscess of the ear. Those exposed to measles should be excluded one week from date of last exposure, unless a clear history of a previous attack can be obtained.

Whooping cough cases should be excluded until after the spasmodic stage of the cough, usually about 8 weeks. Those exposed to it should be excluded 8 weeks from date of last exposure.

Mumps—excluded one week after the swelling has subsided. Those exposed to mumps should be excluded 10 days from date of last exposure. Chicken pox—excluded until all scabs are off and skin smooth.

Cases of tonsillitis are excluded on the clinical evidence alone and should remain excluded until all throat symptoms have completely disappeared.

It was moved and carried that a duplicate order be issued January 1907, be cancelled.

Moved and carried that the secretary of the Board present a bill to the city for rebate on curbing, Howe School property on Eighth street.

Motion to adjourn carried.

Signed C. W. SCHWEDDE, Clerk.

PITTSVILLE.

(From the Record.)

Many residents had the distinction of seeing a cyclonic formation Sunday at about 5:30 in the afternoon. It was about the time the black cloud traveling southward from the north to south that a formation of the nature of a cyclonic made itself apparent about ten degrees north of due west, and was watched by a good many of the people of the city with a feeling of uneasiness as to the coming of a storm. The house of Geo. W. Reynolds, northeast of here on Gary's bluff, lies in ashes as a result of the instant electrical demonstrations during the storm. The house was struck at about 5:30 in the afternoon and burned to the ground. Mr. Reynolds, who was sitting on the porch of the house, was shocked into insensibility. He recovered consciousness, however, before the arrival of the doctor, but will be without the use of his right side for a time.

The heavy frost of Friday night played havoc with the pickle industry in this vicinity. The vines are killed and Saturday and the first day or two of this week witnessed the end of the season of cucumbers at the station here.

Many of the telephone poles on the line of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. between here and Grand Rapids and near the Ironlock River were damaged by being struck by lightning in the storm Sunday. Workmen from this city made the repairs Monday.

Joe, Natwick and family of Baltimore, Md., visited in the city the greater part of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Natwick are both well known here having lived here in the earlier days.

Mrs. C. A. Ludewig was called to Merrill the fore part of last week to attend the funeral of a relative. Mr. Ludewig went there over Sunday.

NEKOOSA.

(From the Times.)

The marriage of Mrs. M. J. Cumberland of Port Edwards and Mr. W. H. Preston of Strongsville, Pa., occurred at the Congregational parsonage here Sunday afternoon at six o'clock. Rev. S. E. Kuntz officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Topping of Grand Rapids, Ark., Cumberland, the bride's son, of Port Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. C. Burns of Strongsville, Pa., being present.

S. Chidwell of Monmouth and Gavin Young and son, Dudley, of Neenah were here the latter part of last week hunting chickens in this vicinity. Mr. Young was the first superintendent of the Nekoosa paper mill and is well known here. They were out chicken hunting with A. E. Lapham on Saturday and Sunday and succeeded in getting a good lot of birds.

A E Gurdy of Green Lake and Mr. and Mrs. James Baird of Pittsburg, Pa., were here from Friday until Monday. Messrs. Gurdy and Baird enjoyed a chicken hunt near Puley in company with J. S. Lawrence last Sunday, coming home with twelve prairie chickens.

Ernest Stevens was at Grand Rapids last Sunday to spend a few hours with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stevens of Plainfield, Wis. Went up there on an excursion train. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, and should be taken at the first intimation of looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all dealers.

BIRON.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Lamert, who lately moved to this burg, are rejoicing over the arrival of a little baby girl.

Curtis Crostean gave a chicken chowder Saturday night. The dance at Poseley's hall Thursday night was well attended and everyone reports a good time.

Mrs. L. Raymon and son, Lester, of Radolph Sunland in this burg with the A. L. Akey family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Willmott are visiting in Milwaukee at present. Hunting is all the talk nowadays. Edgar Kallaghs has moved his family and household goods into the house vacated recently by the C. Sipe family.

The little Jersey cow belonging to A. Akey died last week after a short but serious illness.

Mrs. Munger and Miss Agnes Munger and Mrs. Waterman have gone to housekeeping in this burg.

Mrs. Joe Lupa and sons, Frank and Joe of Ashland are visiting at the James Klappa home. Mrs. Thomas Miller, Mr. and Mrs. John Bore, and Miss Anna Bore and Mrs. Bronkula of Milwaukee are also the guests of the Klappa family at present.

Best Treatment for a Burn.
If for no other reason, Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns. It allays the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a severe one, heals the parts without leaving a scar. This salve is also unequalled for chapped hands, sore nipples and diseases of the skin. Price, 25 cents. For sale by Daily Drug and Jewelry Co.

ARPIN.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Whittingham returned Thursday evening from Milwaukee where they went to attend the fair.

A very pleasant surprise party was tendered Miss Nellie Rosbrook at the home of her parents Saturday evening prior to her departure for Milwaukee.

Lawrence Lord of Naperville, Ill., formerly of this place, visited friends here a few days the past week.

The R. N. A. initiated Mrs. Louis Pota into the mysteries of their camp Saturday afternoon. It was a very pleasant meeting. After the meeting light refreshments were served in her honor.

REMINGTON.

Miss Hattie Newbourn, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Carl Kottke during the summer, departed for her home at Pittsburg on Thursday. She was accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Walzer and three children who also visited at the Kottke home.

Miss Newbourn made many friends during her stay here.

A heavy frost visited this part of the country last week destroying back wheat which was not ripe also corn fields.

Miss Minnie White departed for Grand Rapids last Saturday where she will visit with relatives for a few days.

Miss Mabon Hase and mother returned from Grand Rapids last Wednesday where they visited at the home of Mrs. Robt. Sanger several days.

Mrs. A. E. Koman and her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Severson, called on friends here last Friday.

Mrs. Fred Seebuck is entertaining her sister and niece from Milwaukee this week.

Your kidney trouble may be of long standing, it may be either acute or chronic, but whatever it is Foley's Kidney Remedy will aid you to get rid of it quickly and restore your natural health and vigor. "One bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy made me well," said J. S. Smith of Grand View, Wis. Commence taking it now. Sold by Johnson & Hill Co. and J. E. Daly.

MEEHAN.
W. A. Koyes of your city visited here Sunday with his sister, Mrs. H. Wells.

Ollison Olesman is working at Nekoosa where he expects to remain for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward of Amherst, Junction, were Sunday visitors here. Parson Bros. have purchased a new corn blower; they have a large field of corn to harvest.

A light frost struck here Friday night and did considerable damage to the low places.

Remember the Sunday school picnic at the church grounds Saturday, Sept. 17th, to which all are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Parks and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Fox drove over to Arcott Sunday and spent the day at the home of Fred Parliou.

Several friends of Mrs. O. N. Parsons tendered her quite a surprise Saturday afternoon, it being her 67th birthday. All enjoyed a pleasant time.

The chicken hunters are with us again, but chickens are very scarce here this year.

According to the law passed by the state board of health, regarding the public drinking cups, our school board has taken away the pails and cups from the school house, and replaced them by covered tanks, and all children must furnish their own cups.

Ordinarily the offense calls for jail sentence, but this was Schmitz's second branch of the laws and the penalty became of state prison nature.

THE EIFFEL TOWER

By M. H. Jackson

Paris, July 11, 1910

Here I am, safe on the top of the Eiffel Tower. Auto cabs cannot reach me here. They "scared me up" over by the Trocadero, and were close on my track to the very foot of the tower. Here they "tread me." I can hear them "hooking" around the foot of the tower, but I feel safe up here, for no auto has yet succeeded in climbing to the top of the Eiffel Tower. The laws here give street vehicles full right-of-way over foot passengers, and we have been dodging them all the week. Last year an American was arrested for obstructing traffic because he allowed himself to be knocked down and rolled over by a "taxi." One need not to these conditions will stand at a street corner for a long time waiting for an opening. When it comes and he is dashing toward an oasis in the middle of the street, an auto may plump around the corner from the opposite direction, and then a cabman's horn may be all there is left of him.

It is nearly a thousand feet down to Paris from where I am now. The city looks like a spider's web, and the Seine River like a silver ribbon winding in and out over it.

I can hardly realize that these streets below, now crowded with pigmy people and toy horses and vehicles were once thronging with the angry mob bent on nothing but destruction.

Fourteen miles out yonder is Versailles. We spent a day there last week. We saw the palace where the old Bourbon kings lived in such splendor. It cost one hundred millions of dollars to build it. This money was collected mainly from the poorest people in France, and when it was announced that still another splendid palace was to be built, when many people were actually suffering for bread, the mob gathered and stormed the Bastille, killed the governor and liberated the prisoners held there.

Like the Battle of Bunker Hill in our own history, this victory gave the insurgents courage. It gave them confidence in their own strength, so that later we find them marching out to Versailles. Many women helped to swell the numbers who went out to attack King Louis XVI and his queen Marie Antoinette in their palace at Versailles. You know the story. We saw the marble coat and the balcony where Marie Antoinette appeared to quit the mob after the iron gates had been broken down. The king and queen were compelled to take up their residence at the palace in Paris, and were from that time virtually prisoners.

Below where I am writing now, where the Eiffel tower stands, was, in 1791 the scene of a bloody massacre. The final scenes in the first act of those days of a tottering monarchy, were the trial, conviction and execution of the king and queen of France, and the establishment of the Republic. Then came what is known as the Reign of Terror and after that came Napoleon Bonaparte. I wish it were possible to make room in these letters for a few pages about the man who stamped himself indelibly on this city. Every day brings us to new memorials of this great man. The triumphal arch and his burial place are both in sight of me now, and scattered all over the city are monuments and tablets commemorating his victories.

The French Revolution and the years that followed were terrible in the extreme, but out of it all came a better order of things. "Liberte, Egalite, Fraternite" are inscribed in stone all over this city and all over France. The monarchy came back, but the people had had a taste of popular government and its final institution was inevitable.

The old order of things is now entirely swept away. The great parks covering acres and acres of ground scattered all over the city, are now public property, and every man, woman and child can enjoy them without charge. Fresh green grass, beautiful shade trees, fountains, flowers are within easy reach of all with no charge for their enjoyment, and there are no people on earth who can enjoy them more than can the native of Paris. Thousands of them throng the parks. All kinds of innocent amusements are provided for the children free of charge. The French people live out in God's sunshine. On chairs and benches in the parks may be seen mothers and nurse girls knitting or sewing as they care for the children who are with them.

This has been a rich week. The Louvre, the Pantheon, the Luxembourg collection the National Pottery works, the rides about the city have kept us very busy and the week is gone before we realize it. Day after tomorrow we leave for Cologne, from there to sail up the Rhine. We are all sorry to leave Paris and only wish that our stay might be longer.

Next Sunday we shall be in the little village of Oberammergau, and from 9 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening with an hours rest at noon, we shall see the famous Passion Play. The building at Oberammergau is well ventilated, as it is open to all kinds of weather. We have just been informed that men may keep their hats on during the play, but all women must leave their hats at their boarding places. This is the time we "get even."

I cannot help feeling sorry for the people of Paris for their seeming inability to interpret my French. Some of our party say that we fail to roll it up into a wad and force it into the nasal passages, then back into the throat and out of the mouth explosively. When I try it that way I forget what I was going to say, and then when I remember what I am going to say, I forget to wad it up, so there I am. Yesterday I asked a Parisian to direct me to a barber shop. He did so, but after walking a kilometre and a half, I brought up at a ladies' shampoo parlor. I must ask you, however, not to speak of this as our party are on the lookout for a joke on me, and I am not saying anything about it to

Congregational Sunday School Social.

Next Monday evening the Congregational Sunday school will hold the big social which closes the summer school contest. The "Blues" were just a little behind and will therefore furnish the music for the crowd. As a part of the entertainment a radiograph will be used to show on a large screen the picture post cards sent home by the members of the school while on their vacations. Prof. Jackson will explain many of the pictures obtained by him while in Europe and Mr. Mond will talk about the wonderful pictures from the Yellowstone.

Parents of the scholars and all friends of the school are invited, and urged to be present. Admission will be free.

Fresh green grass, beautiful shade trees, fountains, flowers are within easy reach of all with no charge for their enjoyment, and there are no people on earth who can enjoy them more than can the native of Paris. Thousands of them throng the parks. All kinds of innocent amusements are provided for the children free of charge. The French people live out in God's sunshine. On chairs and benches in the parks may be seen mothers and nurse girls knitting or sewing as they care for the children who are with them.

This has been a rich week. The Louvre, the Pantheon, the Luxembourg collection the National Pottery works, the rides about the city have kept us very busy and the week is gone before we realize it. I cannot help feeling sorry for the people of Paris for their seeming inability to interpret my French. Some of our party say that we fail to roll it up into a wad and force it into the nasal passages, then back into the throat and out of the mouth explosively. When I try it that way I forget what I was going to say, and then when I remember what I am going to say, I forget to wad it up, so there I am. Yesterday I asked a Parisian to direct me to a barber shop. He did so, but after walking a kilometre and a half, I brought up at a ladies' shampoo parlor. THE EIFFEL TOWER

By M. H. Jackson

Here I am, safe on the top of the Eiffel Tower. Auto cabs cannot reach me here. They "scared me up" over by the Trocadero, and were close on my track to the very foot of the tower. Here they "tread me." I can hear them "hooking" around the foot of the tower, but I feel safe up here, for no auto has yet succeeded in climbing to the top of the Eiffel Tower. The laws here give street vehicles full right-of-way over foot passengers, and we have been dodging them all the week. Last year an American was arrested for obstructing traffic because he allowed himself to be knocked down and rolled over by a "taxi." One need not to these conditions will stand at a street corner for a long time waiting for an opening. When it comes and he is dashing toward an oasis in the middle of the street, an auto may plump around the corner from the opposite direction, and then a cabman's horn may be all there is left of him.

It is nearly a thousand feet down to Paris from where I am now. The city looks like a spider's web, and the Seine River like a silver ribbon winding in and out over it.

I can hardly realize that these streets below, now crowded with pigmy people and toy horses and vehicles were once thronging with the angry mob bent on nothing but destruction.

Fourteen miles out yonder is Versailles. We spent a day there last week. We saw the palace where the old Bourbon kings lived in such splendor. It cost one hundred millions of dollars to build it. This money was collected mainly from the poorest people in France, and when it was announced that still another splendid palace was to be built, when many people were actually suffering for bread, the mob gathered and stormed the Bastille, killed the governor and liberated the prisoners held there.

Like the Battle of Bunker Hill in our own history, this victory gave the insurgents courage. It gave them confidence in their own strength, so that later we find them marching out to Versailles. Many women helped to swell the numbers who went out to attack King Louis XVI and his queen Marie Antoinette in their palace at Versailles. You know the story. We saw the marble coat and the balcony where Marie Antoinette appeared to quit the mob after the iron gates had been broken down. The king and queen were compelled to take up their residence at the palace in Paris, and were from that time virtually prisoners.

Below where I am writing now, where the Eiffel tower stands, was, in 1791 the scene of a bloody massacre. The final scenes in the first act of those days of a tottering monarchy, were the trial, conviction and execution of the king and queen of France, and the establishment of the Republic. Then came what is known as the Reign of Terror and after that came Napoleon Bonaparte. I wish it were possible to make room in these letters for a few pages about the man who stamped himself indelibly on this city. Every day brings us to new memorials of this great man. The triumphal arch and his burial place are both in sight of me now, and scattered all over the city are monuments and tablets commemorating his victories.

The French Revolution and the years that followed were terrible in the extreme, but out of it all came a better order of things. "Liberte, Egalite, Fraternite" are inscribed in stone all over this city and all over France. The monarchy came back, but the people had had a taste of popular government and its final institution was inevitable.

The old order of things is now entirely swept away. The great parks covering acres and acres of ground scattered all over the city, are now public property, and every man, woman and child can enjoy them without charge. Fresh green grass, beautiful shade trees, fountains, flowers are within easy reach of all with no charge for their enjoyment, and there are no people on earth who can enjoy them more than can the native of Paris. Thousands of them throng the parks. All kinds of innocent amusements are provided for the children free of charge. The French people live out in God's sunshine. SNAPSHOTS FROM THE EIFFEL TOWER

By M. H. Jackson

Paris, July 11, 1910

Here I am, safe on the top of the Eiffel Tower. Auto cabs cannot reach me here. They "scared me up" over by the Trocadero, and were close on my track to the very foot of the tower. Here they "tired me." I can hear them "honking" around the foot of the tower, but I feel safe up here, for no auto has yet succeeded in climbing to the top of the Eiffel Tower. The laws here give street vehicles full right-of-way over foot passengers, and we have been dodging them all the week. Last year an American was arrested for obstructing traffic because he allowed himself to be knocked down and rolled over by a "taxi." One not used to these conditions will stand at a street corner for a long time waiting for an opening. When it comes and he is darting toward an oasis in the middle of the street, an auto may plump around the corner from the opposite direction, and then a cablegram home may be all there is left of him.

It is nearly a thousand feet down to Paris from where I am now. The city looks like a spider's web, and the Seine River like a silver ribbon winding in and out over it.

I can hardly realize that those streets below, now crowded with pilgrim people and toy horses and vehicles were once thronging with the angry mob bent on nothing but destruction.

We have just been informed that men may keep their hats on during the play, but all women must leave their hats at their boarding places. This is the time we "get even" for the people of Paris for their seeming inability to interpret my French. Some of our party say that we fail to roll it up into passages, then back into the throat and out of the mouth explosively. When I try it that way I forget what I was going to say, and then when I remember what I am going to say, I forget to what it up, so there I am. Yesterday I asked a Parisian to direct me to a barber shop. He did so, but after walking a kilometre and a half, I brought up at a ladies' shampoo parlor. I must ask you, however, not to speak of this as our party are on the lookout for a joke on me, and I am not saying anything about it to them yet.

One of our party who is very fond of buttermilk, ordered some. The waiter brought him some butter on a plate and some milk in a bowl and told him to fix it to suit his own taste.

Today I went through the "Latin quarter." It is made up of rooming houses, many of them fronting on small courts, in which students have rooms. They are, of course, not far removed from the University. It differed a little from my mental picture of it, but I am sure I knew more about it than did the lady in the west who asked one of our party to bring her "a Latin quarter as a souvenir."

There are innumerable artists in Paris. One of the interesting sights at the Louvre is to see the large number of artists there making copies of the great masters. Some of this work is excellent. Much of it is, to say the least, not an improvement on the original.

It is very easy to go long distances in a short time in Paris. The subway is a complete and very rapid style. On the surface with absolute right-of-way, the taxicab, motor cab, tram and omnibus make very quick time. There are few blockades at crossings, and even with the handicap given to pedestrians, there are very few accidents in Paris. It does not seem, as I look down on the thousands of vehicles racing along the streets, and the thousands of people crossing in front of them that accidents can be averted, but statistics are more accurate than guesses, and I am told that an accident is of very rare occurrence in Paris. Americans, however, should be careful as the drivers cannot distinguish the resident Parisian from the stranger and, he proceeds according to his rules, with which the native population are thoroughly familiar.

It seems strange to read of hot weather at home. We have not as yet, experienced a hot day since leaving Boston June 18. They tell me that we shall make up for it when we reach Rome.

I can see from here where the guillotine was erected in 1793. More than three thousand people were beheaded there during those terrible days. Any person suspected even of being in sympathy with any man or movement not in harmony with the "mon with a program" might be executed without trial. The Reign of Terror ended with the execution of Robespierre July 27, 1794. A small riot in Paris, Oct. 5, 1795 gave Napoleon his opportunity, and within three years this young man was dictating to the government at Paris as well as to Italy and Austria. From this time on all Europe was in a turmoil over the ambitions "Little Corsican." Over his tomb is inscribed the words expressed by him at St. Helena.

"I desire that my ashes may rest on the banks of the Seine in the midst of a people that I loved so well."

Just in front of our hotel is a large equestrian statue of Washington. On it is inscribed:

"Offert par les Femmes des Etats Unis d'Amerique en memoire de l'Amitie et de l'aide fraternelle donnees par la France a leurs peres pendant leur lutte pour l'Independance."

Now try your French. But I am reminded that it is time to descend. During the past two hours I have felt very much above my fellowmen, and now comes the inevitable reaction. Tomorrow I shall go down into the catacombs and those wonderful Paris sewers of which Victor Hugo has given such vivid pictures. And so it is in life. Versailles, the Tuilleries, the beautiful gardens and groves, are all Eiffel towers in our experience, but we should be careful how we climb. The Bastille, the howling mob or St. Helena may be ours tomorrow. And so—"Monsieur?"

"Yes, oh yes, I am coming." I have been dreaming, and had quite forgotten to go down to earth again.

CURE BY INJECTION

Much Hope Offered by Physicians in Use of Radium.

European Scientists, After Making Experiments, Write Article on Subject for London Lancet—Lupus Vulgaris of Neck.

New York. Several European physicians and surgeons have been experimenting with injections of solutions of radium as a curative measure. In L. Williams and Dr. M. Depaul have written an article on the subject for the London Lancet. The Medical Record says of it:

"They allude to a paper presented at the 14th congress by several French authors, the conclusions of which are as follows:

"When introduced into the internal body the emanation diffuses itself through the structure, and may in this manner reach deep-seated parts. It has a predilection for the glands which form an internal secretion and especially for the suprarenal capsule. It is eliminated by the lungs and the skin, and to a small extent by the kidneys."

"The authors then pass on to relate their own experiences with this mode of therapy. In a case of lupus vulgaris of the neck, a curative change was produced by injections of (1) water rendered radioactive in the proportion of one milligram of pure sulphate of radium per liter, or (2) water impregnated with radium in the proportion of one milligram of pure boric acid of radium per liter. In this case 40 injections of each kind and of from one to two cubic centimeters were given in the course of two months."

"They have also presented a case of lupus erythematosus, treating for comparison the lesions on the left side by the application of the radium apparatus and those on the right side by injections. On the left side there was a sharp reaction with destruction of the lupus and a subsequent process of repair. Later there seemed to be a strong tendency, but still later there was a recurrence of the lesion at the margin of the thymus of repair. On the right side there was no visible inflammatory reaction, but there was a diminution and then a disappearance of the erythema of the lupus."

YOURS

Yours for uniformity.

Yours for great leaving power.

Yours for never failing results.

Yours for purity.

Yours for everything that goes to make up a strictly high grade, ever-dependable baking powder.

That is Calumet. Try it once and note the improvement in your baking. See how much more economical over the high-priced trust brands, how much better than the cheap and big-kind.

Calumet is highest in quality—moderate in cost.

GIANT BRITISH WARSHIP

The Launch of HMS Lion

LONDON, ENG.—The latest powerful addition to the British navy was sent down the ways a few days ago. In displacement and armament the vessel is the first of its class in the world.

The part assuming a white-clad hull was no exception and there has been no exception.

"It must be understood that soluble radium when injected is in a free state in the animal body and carries with it gaseous emanations which give rise to the phenomenon of radioactivity. The salt in radium apparatus does not supply emanation for therapeutic purposes, for this gas does not pass through any solid body, being in this respect unlike the extremely penetrating radium rays."

"The authors believe that these experiments offer much hope for the future."

How a Story Originated.

Tanglefoot—A report in circulation here that American interests had purchased the greater part of the valuable Angkor country, in southwestern Africa, turns out, to have been erroneous. It originated from a small and insignificant purchase of land by a Moor named Hassan Ali, who is a naturalized American citizen.

POETRY IN BILLS

University of Chicago Teacher Makes Unique Statement.

Professor Wilczynski Announces Advance of Rhythmic Revolution in "Poetry and Mathematics."

Chicago—Poetry is becoming. The grocer's bill may now be called a lyric, the butcher's communication an elegy, and the housewife who checks the charges a literary artist of the subtlest mold. Professor Ernest J. Wilczynski of the University of Chicago mathematics department says so.

Professor Wilczynski, who teaches integral calculus, projective differential geometry and other advanced subjects at the university, announced the advance of the rhythmic revolution in a lecture on "Poetry and Mathematics" the other day at Ryerson Physical Laboratory. Poets and mathematicians, he declared, are expert in such other arts, and by no means so different as uninformed persons may imagine.

The university authority defined the world as one huge mathematical problem, and his remarks were full of comfort for those who have felt that the world is a puzzle. "Poetry and mathematics," he said, "are two sides of the same coin. The poet is a mathematician, and the mathematician is a poet. The difference is only in the degree of abstraction. The poet is a mathematician who has not yet reached the stage of abstraction. The mathematician is a poet who has reached the stage of abstraction."

West Raising Sacred Sheep

Former Yale Professor Expects to Make Fortune Out of Experiment on Pacific Coast.

Tacoma, Wash.—On Hesper Island, in Puget sound, George Sifford, a former Yale professor, is engaged in an experiment on the raising of sheep. He has selected a hundred of the best of the breed and is raising them on the island. He expects to make a fortune out of the experiment.

Sifford, while acting as a missionary to central Asia, brought thirty of the sacred sheep to this country. He secured his first pure-bred sacred sheep because of a favor he did for a Bokohera nobleman. Convinced that such a sheep would be a source of great wealth if once adapted to America, he searched around to find others. He was rewarded in his efforts and the nobleman reached America with the specimens.

To find a climate similar to that of Bokohera was the most serious question before Sifford. On the way down Puget sound from Victoria, B. C., he passed Ilesper Island, covered with evergreen trees and luxuriant shrubbery. Reaching Seattle, he returned to the island to investigate and found almost the identical grasses and shrubs that grow in Bokohera, but of different names. Here he took the sacred sheep and they flourished. Now there are fifteen lambs, and the next summer or two there will be a good-sized flock of the most valuable sheep in the world.

The sheep are free from any of the diseases afflicting the common kinds, and the quality of wool produced since reaching American shores indicates an improvement.

Courtesy in Young Girls.

Young girls are apt to be somewhat thoughtlessly discourteous, and are quite oblivious of the tremendous evil often wrought by want of thought. Such girls should be in mind the lesson in courtesy given by a father to his daughter, "My child," said he, "treat everybody with politeness, even though they are rude to you. For remember that you show courtesy to others, not because they are ladies, but because you are one."—Honus Notes

Notice of Application for Letters of Administration

Wm. County, in Circuit Court—in Probate. State of Wisconsin 1888

In the matter of the estate of Joseph Gustafson, deceased.

On the 20th day of September, A. D. 1910, upon reading and filing the petition of Anna Gustafson, widow, duly sworn, and verified by the county of Wood, dated and returned, on or about the 10th day of September, A. D. 1910, and having that Anna Gustafson be appointed administratrix of the estate of said deceased.

It is ordered, that said application be heard before me, at the probate office in Grand Rapids, Wis., on the 15th day of October, A. D. 1910, at 10 o'clock a. m.

And it is further ordered, that notice of the time and place appointed for hearing said application be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper printed in said county, previous to the time appointed for said hearing.

By the Court,
W. J. Conway,
County Judge

Cheap Pears.

Johnson & Hill Co. will have a carload of fancy Kiefer pears about Oct. 1st. Price 85c and $1.00 per bushel.

Bamboo.

It is possible that the world's future supply of paper pulp will be derived from the bamboo forests of the tropics instead of being drawn from the forests of the temperate zones. Successful experiments have been made in Japan pointing in that direction. A company has obtained a perpetual lease of 8,000 acres of bamboo forest in Formosa, enough to provide 600 tons a month.

Reward.

The loss you require looking after, the more able you are to stand alone and complete your tasks, the greater your reward. Then if you cannot only do your work, but direct intelligently and effectively the efforts of others, your reward is in exact ratio, and the more people you direct, and the higher the intelligence you can rightly lend, the more valuable is your life.—Elbert Hubbard.

A Perfectly Awful Cigar.

"I bought a cigar named after you, today," said the low comedian, who looked rather pale. "Really?" smiled the prima donna; "I wasn't aware I had so great an honor thrust upon me." "I don't! Suffering snobs!" snapped the comedian. "You must not say more; rest assured, little one, your secret is safe with me!"—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Englishman's Queer Freak.

When Mr. J. R. Colley, a shoemaker, whose death at the age of ninety has occurred at Sarfild, Lincolnshire, England, was sent out into the world at the age of ten, his mother presented him with a silk hat, and told him to wear it always. He wore the hat indoors and out of doors until the day of his death.

Just the Thing.

"Some of these farmers don't know how to handle their properties," "Think not?" "I know it. Half these abandoned farms furnish ideal surroundings for golf links."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Iron.

Pure iron is only a laboratory preparation. Cast iron, the most generally useful variety, contains about five per cent. of impurities, and the curious thing is that it owes its special value to the presence of these. Pure iron can be shaved with a pocket knife; impure iron can be made almost as hard as steel.

Carrying a Canoe.

A man who carries a canoe always seems important to us. An Aetolian man not only carries a canoe, but when he stops to talk he hooks it in his outside coat pocket in order that he may swing his arms freely.—Aetolian (Kan.) Globe.

Friction Bearings or Ball Bearings—Which?

The ordinary friction bearing will wear loose. Each revolution or vibration grinds out a small portion of the bearing surface. After a while it wobbles—adjustment permanently ruined.

The New Model

L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter

is fitted with Ball Bearings throughout. Every vital wearing part—type-bar joints, carriage, and type-bar segment—has the kind of bearings that thousands of operations cause to run even smoother than at first.

W. A. Branson of Spokane, Wash., stopped off here a couple of days the fore part of the week while on his way to Merrill.
Edward Lynch went to Milladore on Sunday to attend to some business connected with his lumbering interests.
Tadfield Martinson, who is employed on the Soo Ry. as brakeman, is home for a vacation which he is spending with his folks.
George Scott has been spending the past few days in Milwaukee where he was visiting with friends and taking in the sights.
C. E. Blodgett of Marshfield was in the city on business last Monday, having made the run down in his Stockard-Dayton touring car.
The Friday evening dances have been discontinued at the pavilion, and dances will be held there only on Wednesday evenings until the end of the season.
Mrs. K. Dunagan, accompanied by her nephew, Fairfax Dunagan, left on Monday for Chicago where she expects to spend the week engaged in buying goods for her store.
L. M. Mathias was in Milwaukee several days last week where he attended the state fair. He will go to Springfield, Ill., next week where he will attend the Illinois state fair.
The Board of Review met on Monday after several adjournments and it is probable that the assessment of the city will now be gone over without further delay.
The members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church held a social at the church parlors on Friday evening, at which there was a large attendance. The evening was spent very pleasantly.
Judge W. J. Conway has purchased a new Buick four cylinder touring car, which he drove up from Milwaukee the fore part of the week. The machine is a nice one and the Judge can now ride with the best of them.
Mrs. Wm. Gross has gone to Wausau where the family will hereafter make their home. Mr. and Mrs. Gross's many friends here will be sorry to lose them from our community.
Henry Dudley of Dudley and Mrs. Sam Dunne of Merrill arrived in the city on Monday and in company with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dudley, left on Tuesday for Berlin, where they were going to take in the county fair.
Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Beyer are mourning the death of their infant son, who died on Sunday evening from cholera infantum. Mr. and Mrs. Beyer have the sympathy of their many friends in their sad affliction.
Word was received here on Monday of the death of F. A. Arus at Spokane, Wash., where he went a year ago last spring to live. Mr. Arus had always enjoyed good health here so the announcement of his death was a great surprise to his friends here.
Mr. Rousch says that everything is looking good out his way and that the farmers expect to harvest some fair crops notwithstanding the unfavorable season.
W. C. Boyce has shipped his stock of marble and granite to Clinton, Iowa, and Mr. Boyce left on Tuesday for that city where he will open a granite works the same as he had here. Clinton is a thriving city and Mr. Boyce's many friends here will wish him success in his new location.
O. S. Hanson and Louis Nelson of Strong's Prairie, Adams County, were in the city Monday and Tuesday visiting with friends. While here they favored the Tribune office with a pleasant call. They stated that while they had had a light frost down in that country, it had not been severe enough to damage corn and potatoes to any extent, and that these crops are ripening up in fine shape.
Justice seems to be in a state of suspension up in Sawyer county just at present, the authorities there not having done much of anything toward the capture of John F. Dietz of Cameron Dam fame. Occasional dispatches from up there intimate that the authorities intend to capture Dietz, but they seem to be waiting for him to come out of his hole and give himself up.
Onezine Fountain and son Jeffrey of Dollar Bay, Mich., spent several days in the city the fore part of the week, trying to find some trace of his brother Noroes Fountain who he has not seen for 33 years, and who was reported to have been a resident here in early days. Anyone knowing of the whereabouts of Noroes Fountain will be rewarded by notifying Onezine Fountain at Dollar Bay, Mich. Mr. Fountain has been informed that his brother lost one of his legs in an accident some years ago.
